Transparency in DEPB Rates

(c) if so. the reaction of Government thereto; and

(d) what Export Promotion Schemes are available during the current fiscal year for exporters?

THE MINISTER OF COMMERCE (SHRI RAMAKRISHNA HEGDE): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) and (c) It is not correct to say that the methodology of calculation of DEPB rates is faulty or non-transparent. There is a standard formula for calculating these rates which take into consideration (i) the quantities of inputs required as per the standard Input-Output Norms for the export product, (ii) the total duty element calculated with reference to the c.i.f. value of the, various imported inputs, and (iii) the prescribed value addition for the export product. The DEPB rates are calculated and recommended by an inter-Ministerial Committee known as the DEPB Committee. Representatives from the concerned Export Promotion Councils and Associations are also invited to the Committee meetings as and when, required. In case any factual errors are brought to the notice of the Committee, these are also examined and the Commit tee takes appropriate rectificatory measures wherever necassary. However, in a number of cases the exporters were found to have made unjustified claims for enhancement of DEPB rates allowed to their products and have brought pressure on the Government by alleging that incorrect/non-transparent DEPB rates were fixed. Such unjustified demands have not been acceded to by the Government.

(d) Various Export Promotion Schemes like Duty Exemption Scheme, EPCG Scheme, EOU/EPZ- Scheme, Gem & Jewellery Scheme are available during the current fiscal year.

(c) what are Government plans to contain it?

The Government is also initiating action through several measures to facilitiate investment in sectors with strong export potential, encourage diversification of India's export basket, address infrastructure shortcoming, improve export-facilitation measures and thus enhance the overall competitiveness of Indian exports.
